Mr. R. Nelson Snider

Principal

Mr. Aaron T. Lindley

Superintendent

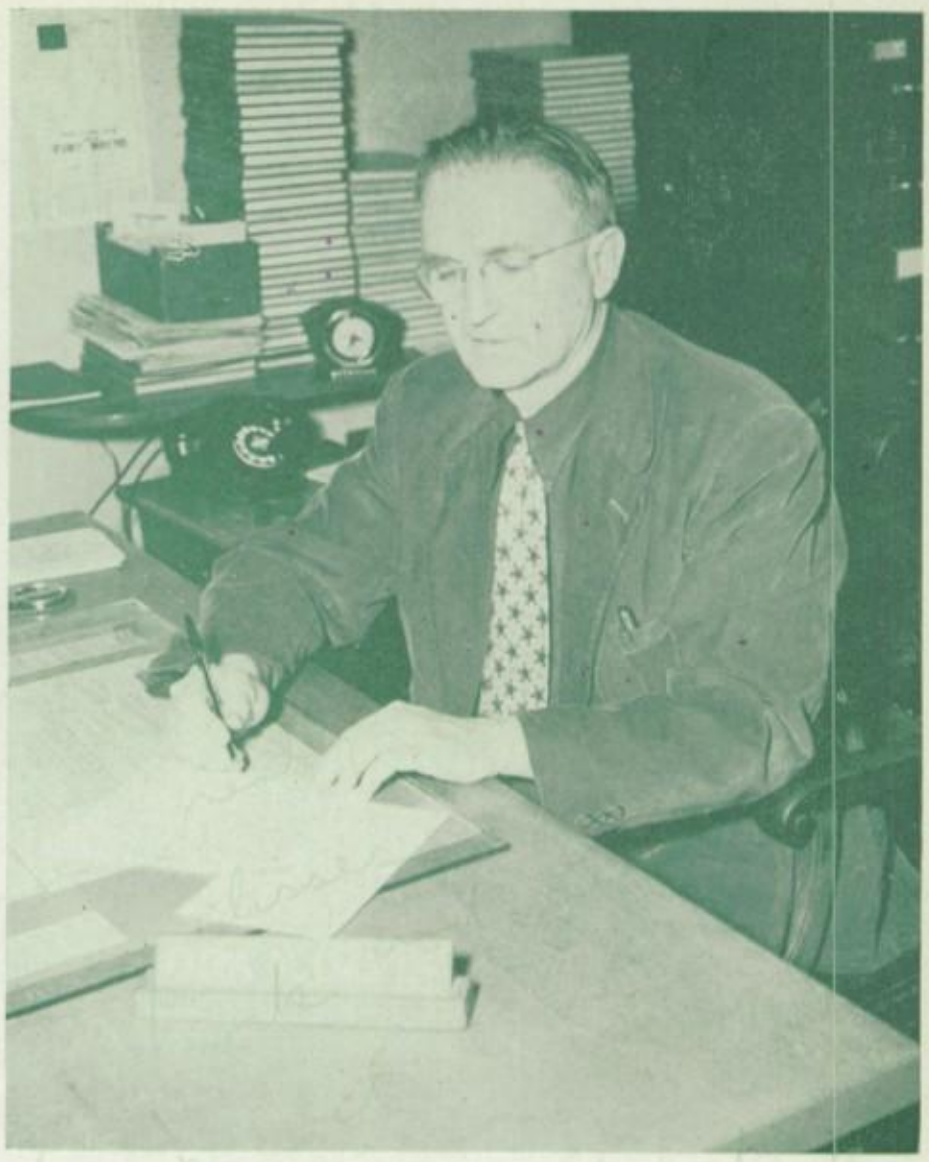
It will always remain in our memories how Mr. Lindley and Mr. Snider had Room 170 divided into rooms and brought part of Abbett Junior High to South Side.

To you, our principal, Mr. Snider, we express our sincere gratitude for your wholehearted interest in us. Your ever ready smile and helping hand have made all who know you regard you with the highest respect and affection.

And to you, Mr. Lindley, we say thank you for understanding and willingness to help. As superintendent of schools you have proved to be a capable leader and a friend to both students and teachers.

Miss Pauline Van Gorder

Miss Van Gorder, our dean, has again shown that she is the friendly and never tiring person whom we shall all remember.



Mr Ora M. Davis

Mr. Davis, guidance director, with whom we file our complaints and about everything else, is always ready to lend a helping hand in helping us along the right way.

Miss Frances Stobaugh

The innumerable tasks that befall Frances Stobaugh, registrar, are handled capably and efficiently. What would South Side do without Frances?

Seniors

Memories of Our Four Years

How hard it is for us to realize that our high school days are nearly at a close! It seems as if only yesterday we were wide-eyed, uncertain, little Freshmen with so much to see and even more to learn. But green as we were, we had "One Foot in Heaven."

Somehow, we managed to survive that first hectic year. When we made the big step to Sophomores, we elected our first class officers. With Fred Augspurger as president, Nancy Kierspe, vice-president; Susie Noble, secretary-treasurer; Martha Ritter, Jim McGraw, and Charlie Gibbs, social council, and Miss Lucy Osborne and Mr. Jack Morey, advisers, we were prepared for a wonderful year. Things started out with a bang . . . our "Sophomore Scandal" party featured bigger-than-life scarecrows of various classmates. Everyone will remember that party as the successful beginning of our class's social events.

And before you could say "R. Nelson Snider," we were upperclassmen—Juniors, to be exact. But we weren't content just to be traditionally jaunty . . . we wanted to take a real part in school affairs and to show that we had gained poise and ability to cooperate in the past two years. We showed what our class could do by putting on our novel Junior Banquet, "Underwater Wonderland," and that never-to-be-forgotten prom, "Stairway to the Stars." That year we chose Fred again as president, Jim McGraw, vice-president; Charlie Gibbs, secretary-treasurer; Susie Noble, Martha Ritter, and Nancy Kierspe, social council. They were ably assisted by our advisers, Miss Shirley Maloney and Mr. Jack Morey.

Now we are Seniors. This is the year we have dreamed about ever since we can remember. But it has gone much too fast, and we are surprised to find ourselves wishing at times that we could live it over again.

As time goes by, we will realize more and more how much the past four years have meant to us. Never again will we be quite as carefree and confident about what the future holds as during this last year, as we whirled gaily through the Senior Reception, the Alumni Dance, our "Thru The Years" banquet, the Senior play, "Our Miss Brooks," Ivy Day, Recognition Day, the Senior Dance, Baccalaureate, and finally, Commencement. Now, molded by four years of wise guidance and armed with a host of happy memories, we go out into the wide world to seek our destiny.

Good Qualities Prevail

Upper left: "I've found it! I've found the Lost Chord." Jim McGraw displays one of the many talents which helped him receive the honor of being chosen boy with the best personality, boy most likely to succeed, and boy who has done most for the school.

Lower left: "Charleston, Charleston . . ." Marie Bromer and Bill Bryan trip the light fantastic for the photographer to prove they are deserving of the best girl dancer and best boy dancer award.

Upper right: "It takes two . . ." The Senior Class's favorite twosome is Shirley Karns and Jerre McManama, who were picked as the cutest couple.

Lower right: Barbara Stobaugh, chosen girl most likely to succeed, shows Nancy Kierspe, the best speaker, how to lay out a page of The Times.

These We Have Chosen

Lower left: Jack Kern, best boy athlete, prepares to crown Mary Jayne Somers, best girl athlete, as Princess Snow-in-the-Face.

Upper right: Marjorie Faulkner, voted cutest girl, turns on the charm as Charles Gibbs, most handsome boy, helps her straighten out the curly locks.

Lower right: Lou Gerig, best musician, looks a bit skeptical as Susie Noble explains her plans to him. Susie was chosen as girl with the best personality and girl who has done most for the school.

Remember how the ivy looked before the construction work was begun last fall? The repairmen had to take it down so they could tuck-point the bricks. Now it will be several years before the ivy will grow so beautifully again.

Underclass

Here is the Class of '55, just bursting to start its last year at South Side. And judging from its past efforts, such as the Junior Banquet and "The Street of Dreams," the Junior Prom, this class is really going to go places.

Next picture down, Mary Val Crouse and Jim Frey are showing the form which won them the title of being the best dancers in the junior class. Mary Val also was voted the cutest girl.

At the extreme left of the next picture is Joan Hattendorf who won the honor of being the girl most likely to succeed and girl who has done most for the school. Next to her are Donna Hengsteler and Norm Miner, who are taking time away from their athletic practice which makes them best athletes of their class. That bored-looking individual to the right has, according to the polls, the best personality in the junior class. His name, oh—Ken Scrogham.

The two smiling so sweetly at each other in the next picture are Nancy Evans and Dick Brantingham, who were voted the cutest couple. Nancy also beams with that "best personality." Dick won the envied title of handsomest boy. What a talented couple!

Jane Zeiler and Joan Nading (lower right) look mighty pleased about being chosen best musician and best speaker. However, Bryan Boggess is not resting on his laurels but is concentrating on how to live up to his titles of the boy who has done most for the school and the boy most likely to succeed.

Bill Gerig demonstrates why he was chosen the most perfect gentleman to Julia Easterday, the most perfect lady, in the picture in the lower left.

Pleased with the events of the sophomore year which lies behind these half-wayers are the Class of '56's officers, seated, left to right, Luba Gouloff, secretary-treasurer; John Lewis, president; Terry Miller, vice-president; and Miss Dolores Lister, adviser; standing: Jim Fuzy, social council; Mr. Robert Weber, adviser; Nancy Showalter and Sharon Davis both social council members.

Diane Richards and John Lewis, voted cutest couple, take their eyes off each other long enough to smile at the camera in the second picture down. John also sports the most-handsome-boy title.

Showing his hard-earned letter sweater to Peggy Robinson, best musician, and Nancy Showalter, best girl athlete, is a future varsity headliner, Jim Fuzy, selected best boy athlete by his classmates.

Hands on hips and wearing a of-course-I'll-turn-the-water-on-for-Janice Hattendorf expression is Jim Hearn. Paula McConnell, the sophomores' best speaker, will defend the most perfect gentleman if called upon for a speech. Janice was chosen most perfect lady.

In the lower right picture, Luba Gouloff, voted girl with the best personality, looks questioningly at Terry Miller, the boy with the best personality, as cutest girl Lydia Martindale showers her attention on Smoky. Terry was also tagged boy who has done most for the school and the boy most likely to succeed.

Judy Hicks, best girl dancer, and David Eitman, best boy dancer, look to see what Deanne Wissner, the girl who has done most for the school, has to offer them from books.

Shown in the upper-right picture are Janeann Thomas, the class of '57's cutest girl; Judy Denig, voted the girl with the best personality; and Denver Mock, who, as you can see, is the class's most handsome boy.

Carol Biggs, the most perfect lady, is being helped with her coat by Dwight Flowers, chosen by his classmates most likely to succeed. Holding Carol's books is Kip Ormerod, who copped the title of boy with the best personality.

In the picture on the lower-left, intently watching Ron Ensch, the boy who has done the most for the school, are Tom Winkler and Gail Baldwin. Tom was elected best boy musician, Gail as the girl who has done the most for the school.

Wayne Scott

Athletic Manager

Wayne Scott, better known as "Scotty", has given us another year of his excellent direction. His earnestness, personality, knowledge, and helpful attitude have truly made him qualify for his position. We all like to hear Scotty sing while he is working. Scotty has a tremendous task of assisting the coaches and also of preparing schedules and purchasing equipment.

Athletic Managers . . .

The equipment managers are well known by all varsity athletes. They are "the-behind-the-scenes" men. Their duties consists of stenciling numbers on equipment, handing out clean practice clothes, keeping first aid supplies, putting lines on the football field, and keeping records of all shoes and uniforms. The 1954 equipment managers are left to right: Richard Bauer, Roger Bauer, Tom Graham, Mr. Ralph McClain, head equipment manager, George McClain, Don Dowty, David Clark, and Roger Foote.

Gridmen Finish With 50-50 Season

Coach Jack Bobay began the difficult task of putting together his first grid team in the hot August days before school started last fall.

No one knew then just how the season would end, but the four-won, four-lost record was brought about in this manner. The team lost its first two games to Indianapolis Shortridge and Jackson, Michigan, but bounced back with two impressive victories over Central and Gary Froebel. Then they suffered losses to Mishawaka and North Side. Again they came back to conquer Concordia and Central Catholic in the last two games.

Great teamwork was shown both on and off the playing field. Every boy gave his supreme effort toward a team victory and not for his own benefit.

The senior class contributed a great deal of strength to the team. Eighteen of this year's twenty touchdowns were scored by Seniors. These were made as follows: Fred Augspurger, 3 touchdowns; Dave Grieser, 1; Kent Horton, 1; Jack Kern, 6; Cyril Laycoff, 1; Jerre McManama, 4; and Bill Patty, 2. Underclassmen who scored touchdowns are Dick Brantingham and Chuck Benz, who each made one.

The Kelly grid team was strengthened by the speed and agility exhibited by the ball carriers and the excellent execution of its plays. Snappy passing, classy catches, and plenty of driving power all contributed to a very successful football season.

Kelly Netters Keep Winnings High

Coach Don Reichert and his netmen framed perhaps one of the best basketball teams the Kellys have seen in many years. Starting off the season with a nine-game winning streak, the Archers suffered only five losses in twenty-three games, including the Holiday Tournament at Muncie and three Sectional games.

Consistent winning and scattered losses left the cagemen holding a record of sixteen wins and four losses at the end of the regular season. Two of these losses were to North Side, one to Central, and one to Huntington.

One of the high points of the season was receiving the coveted Holiday Tournament Trophy when the Archers triumphed over Richmond and former state champ Muncie Central.

The squad was aided heavily by the performance of its senior netmen, which numbered eight in all. There were not necessarily any outstanding individuals, but agile guards like Dave Grieser, Bob Rossiter, and Bill Gerig contributed greatly to the fine performance of the team in the last five games of the season.

The team worked as a unit designed to give the best results possible. The right attitude, plenty of hustle, and an abundance of ability were familiar characteristics. It can be rightfully said that the players did their very best.

Harriers, Thinlies Finish Good Season

Coach George Collyer turned out another highly successful squad in his seventeenth season as varsity track coach. George is the kind of man who can get his boys to do their utmost and try their hardest to run, jump, or vault the best they possibly can.

South Side's team was successful in winning meets as well as team spirit. The cindermen, in the first five meets, showed a respectable record in wins over Kokomo, Concordia, and Central Catholic. They copped second place in the North Side Relays and fourth in the Kokomo Relays, and lost to Mishawaka and Muncie Central.

In the meet against Concordia and Central Catholic, South scored nine firsts. Bill Chavis set a record in broadjump at the North Side Relays. The track team still had meets to play with Central, Elkhart, and Mishawaka when The Totem went to press.

Mr. Collyer's cross country squad also registered a highly successful season with wins over Central Catholic twice, Concordia twice, and Wabash. Losses were made to Marion, Central, and Kokomo.

Tennis . . .

South's tennis team, although losing its key man, came through with flying colors this year. Sporting such players as Jerry O'Brien, Dick Cashman, Bill Gerig, Dave Gustafson, Lowell Zoller, and Dave Bennhoff, the Archers played the cream of the tennis teams of the state.

They started the season by beating Central Catholic, Concordia, and Bluffton and, when the Totem went to press, had games scheduled with such teams as Muncie Central and Burris, along with Peru, North Side, and Howe Military Academy.

Mr. Everett Havens is the coach.

Golf . . .

This year's golf team is composed of many experienced men from last year's turfsters. The returning players are Barry Hindman, Gene Schmeling, and Bob Rossiter from the sectional team of last year.

The Archer linksmen this year had matches with Muncie Central, Marion, Concordia, Elmhurst, Decatur, and Logansport; and they participated in the LaPorte Invitational Golf Tournament in which 22 of the best teams in the state played.

Coach Robert Drummond stated that he thought this year's edition of the South Side golf team was the strongest in many years.

Intramural . . . Relaxation, Physical Development

The tireless, creative mind of the late Mr. Louis Briner has provided South Side with the most elaborate and extensive system of intramural activities in Fort Wayne. Back in 1929, Mr. Briner developed a plan by which any boy so desiring could achieve relaxation and physical development in a variety of athletic events.

Now numbering well over twenty-five events, including football, tennis, basketball, handball, golf, wrestling, and softball, these athletic activities provide reputable recognition for those boys who do not go out for varsity competition.

The compatible, highly capable Mr. Clair Motz became Mr. Briner's successor two years ago and has carried and added to the high standards of IM. Proof may be found in the many, many records posted in his busy office.

This season's activities began with the tag-football tournament. Meanwhile Bill Chapman, John Sawyer, and John Milnor fought hard through tough competition to become tennis champs. Records were set in cross country and in golf in which Bill Berg carded a 74 in the tournament.

Next came Hoosierland's leading activity, basketball. At the same time, a free-throw contest was held. Handball also came in the mid-semester program.

Other competitive and physical development programs, including wrestling, boxing, track, softball, and volleyball, in which the Cowboys retained their championship from the previous year, were also concluded, giving many boys their intramural letter.

The sports-minded boys of South Side can look back on the 1953-1954 season as a very successful one, indeed.

GAA . . . Great in Athletic Ability

With more than 400 girls participating in its activities, the Girls' Athletic Association finished another successful year.

The sports indulged in by these girls included speedball, basketball, volleyball, tumbling, and softball. Extra activities were the tennis, badminton, and ping-pong tournaments. They also held a track and field meet.

The club held its Fall Sports Party October 19, at which members tap danced, tumbled, played the piano, and sang. Later, variations of volleyball were played, and the Executive Board served Cokes and donuts.

Another major event was the Potluck Banquet, January 18. Janice Schon was emcee of "Come to the Fair." A humorous speech, "Side Shows", was given by Miss Edith Crowe. Pins, letters, and numerals were awarded by Mrs. Keegan and Miss Pohlmeyer. Charlene Galland was announced high point girl of the Senior Class.

Not until all the Totems are handed out to you will all of our work be done. Few realize the hard work put into a school yearbook or when this work is begun. During the summer Mary Long began by planning The Totem dummy. She brought together all of her efforts and ability with the help of all of the staff members to make this yearbook the best of all.

The photographers have carefully tried to capture in photography every precious moment during the past year so that everyone will better remember South Side in its gaiety and more serious moments.

While the Totem was being assembled and perfected, the circulation staff kept a strict account of the money involved and a record of all of the sales for The Totem.

"Check and double check" was the motto of our copy editor, Barbara Stobaugh. She never gave up the tedious task of reading the copy for errors.

Activity, a dull hum, and a touch of laughter were all found in the Totem office during this year of hard work. Everyone was unfamiliar at first with the task of producing a yearbook, but with a lot of satisfaction in a job well done, we present to you the 1954 book of "Memories".

The other photographers who provided the pictures for this annual are Don Dowty, Ronald Schultz, and Bill Gilsdorf.

Circulation assistants Sharon Earl, Jackie Meyer, and Martha Morgan check the money and slips.

Times Still at the Top . . . 32 Years Old

Students have again this year gained much experience and enjoyment in the field of journalism from working on The Times. Over one hundred fifty students have worked on the staff, producing an honor-winning newspaper.

Top honors were bestowed on The Times this year. From the Columbia Scholastic Press Association it received the Medalist rating, the highest possible award, the Typographical Excellence Award, the top one given, and the All-Columbia rating for the best editorial pages for schools with an enrollment of 1,001 to 1,500 in this country.

Quill and Scroll presented The Times with the International Honor Rating, another highest possible award, and the George H. Gallup Award, given to school papers that hold outstanding records year after year or have given outstanding service to their schools.

The Times also won the circulation campaign among North Side, Central, and South Side in both the fall and spring semesters.

Seventeen Seniors on the Times and Totem staffs were elected to Quill and Scroll International Honorary Society for High School Journalists. They were feted with a banquet and movie on May 18. They are J. Frederick Bartlett, Carol Bushouse, Constance Carver, Janice Hillyer, Gwen Hinton, Dixie Hogg, Nancy Kierspe, Mary Livingston, Mary Long, Nancy Moore, Dianne Murray, Carol Ann Nichols, Sue Novitsky, Sherry Palmer, Kathryn Pence, Linde Schmidt, and Barbara Stobaugh.

Feature staff members, seated, Rosie Roof, Karen Keller, editor; Nancy Kierspe; standing, Sande Kopper, Jane Mayer, and Diane Roe check assignments.

Once again the circulation department won the city circulation cup with the help of (sitting) Joan Hattendorf, manager, Barbara Bradley, Gwen Hinton; (standing) Sande Kopper, Jane Zeiler, Mary Ann Clark, Janice Lindenberg, and Ann Dinius, book heads.

(Sitting) Sande Kopper, outside circulation manager, Rosalie Sheline, alumni editor; (standing) Bill Davis, cartoonist, and Mary Livingston, makeup editor, are all necessary to keep the Times rolling.

Business matters are taken care of by (seated) Dianne Murray, auditor; Abigail Mead, advertising manager; (standing) Barb Pio, business manager; Feryl Orn, exchange manager; Jane Mayer, point recorder; and Colleen Liddy, mailing manager.

The front page news stories are assigned by (seated) Donna Hengsteler, news editor, to writers such as (standing) Ann Dinius, Sande Kopper, and Janice Lindenberg.

Liz Moore and Carol Bushouse cover the girl's sports activities.

Boys sports are recorded by (seated) Bunco Clarkson, editor; (standing) LeRoy Sholund, Tom Arnold, Ken Scrogham and Jim Frey.

Library . . .

The South Side library under the efficient management of Miss Emma Shoup, librarian, offers many advantages to the students here. It is open six periods a day and after school and contains almost all the information that may be desired by a student. Its handy location by the southwest entrance makes it a popular place.

Upper left: Emily Lapp, Marcia Perry, and Mary Long keep library service workers, Pat Riser, Helen Bohn and Beverly Custance, busy checking out books.

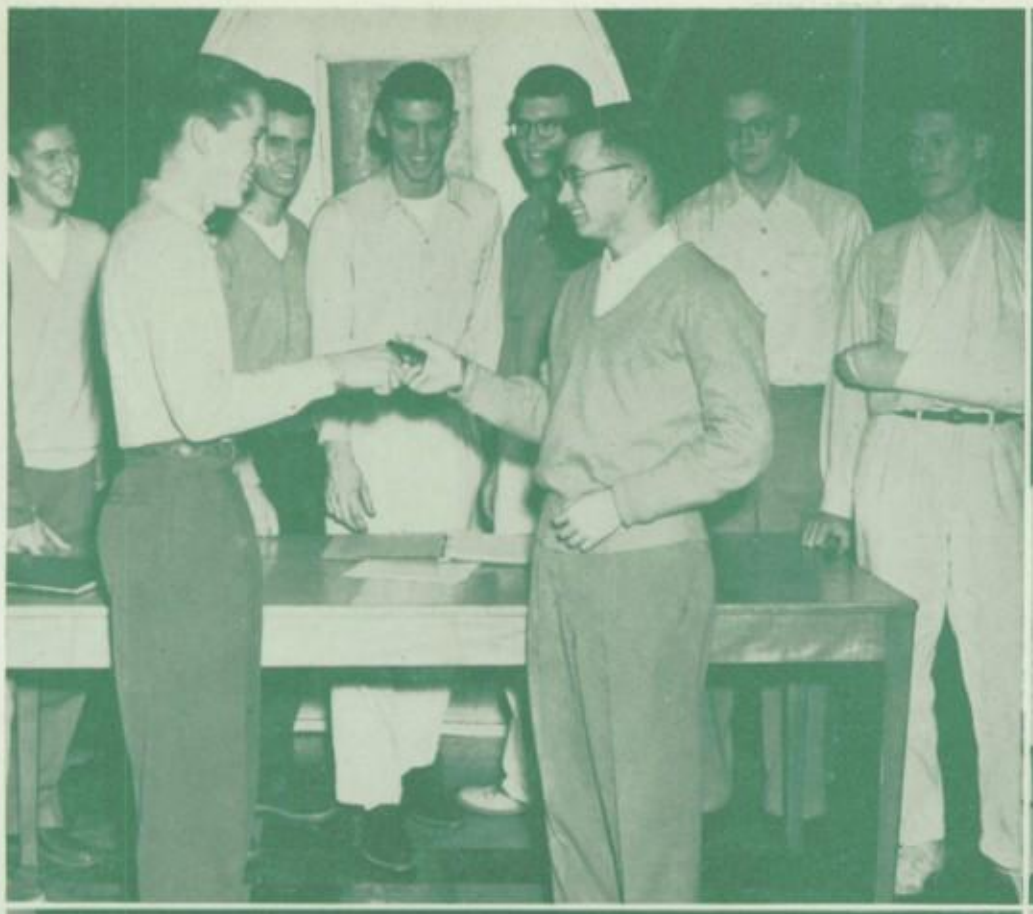
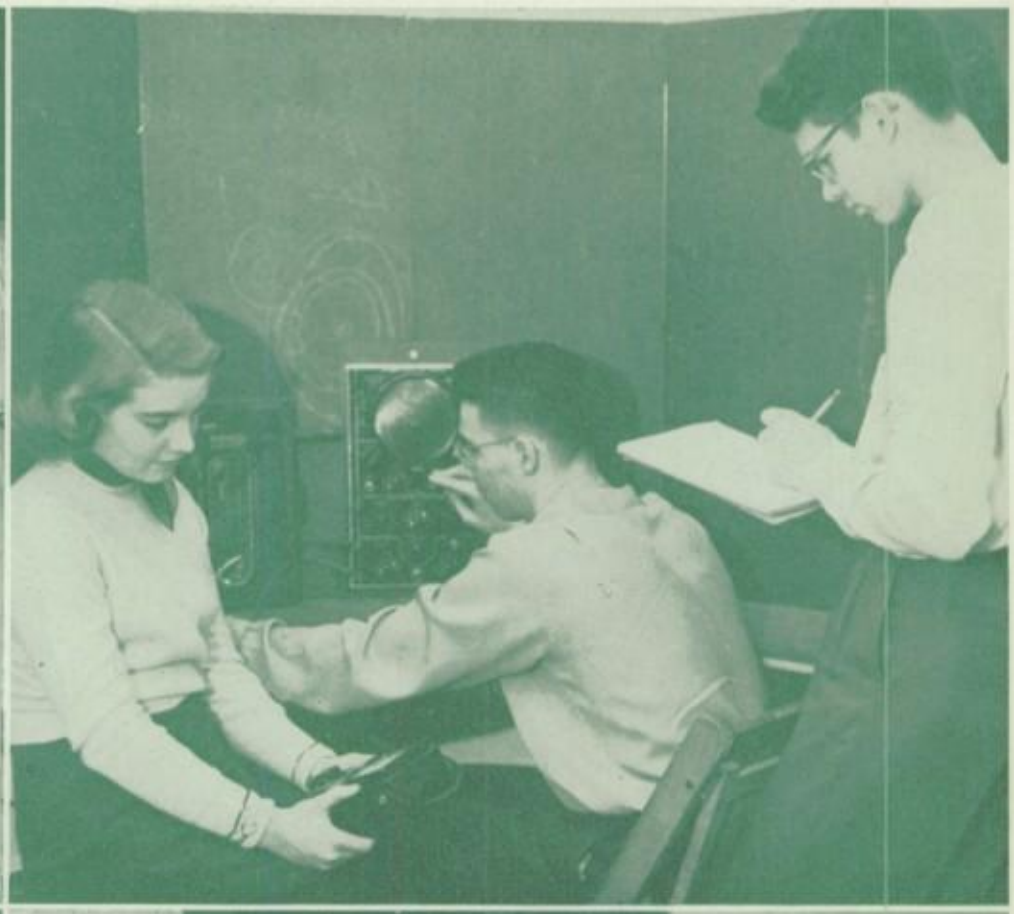
Service . . .

Many students offer their time and services to aid teachers here at South Side. These service workers belong to Service Club under the direction of Mr. Ora Davis. Each year at the Service Club Banquet the Randolph Jacobs Trophy is awarded to the Senior who has done the most service for the school. This year's winner is Susie Noble.

Upper right: Susie Noble proudly accepts the trophy at the Service Banquet. Janice Schon presents the trophy while Diddy Pence smiles her approval.

Lower right: Study hall service workers, Sally Schug, Martha Pohlmeyer, Barbara Evans, and Diddy Pence, demonstrate one of the jobs performed daily by service workers.





Hi-Y . . .

Hi-Y Club always enjoys a good time under the leadership of Mr. Robert Weber no matter what they do. Big events with Hi-Y this year was the Queen of Hearts dance, picnic with Philo, and their trip to Washington.

Upper left: Dick Cashman hands Bruce Bloom the Hi-Y gavel as he is succeeded by Bruce for the presidency. Other officers who are watching are Dave Bennhoff, Dick Arnold, Roger Anderson, Dave Gustafson, John Milnor, and Tom Knipstein.

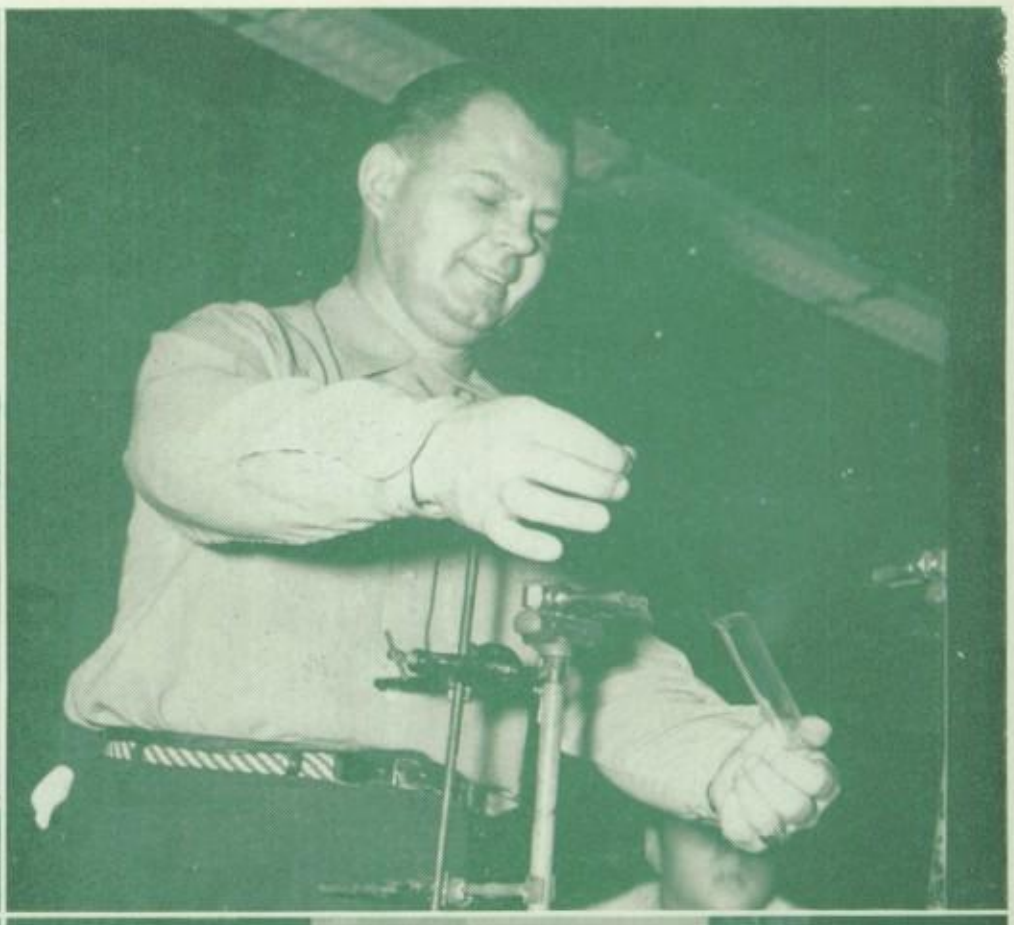
Lower left: Fun is had by both teachers and club members at Hi-Y's picnic.

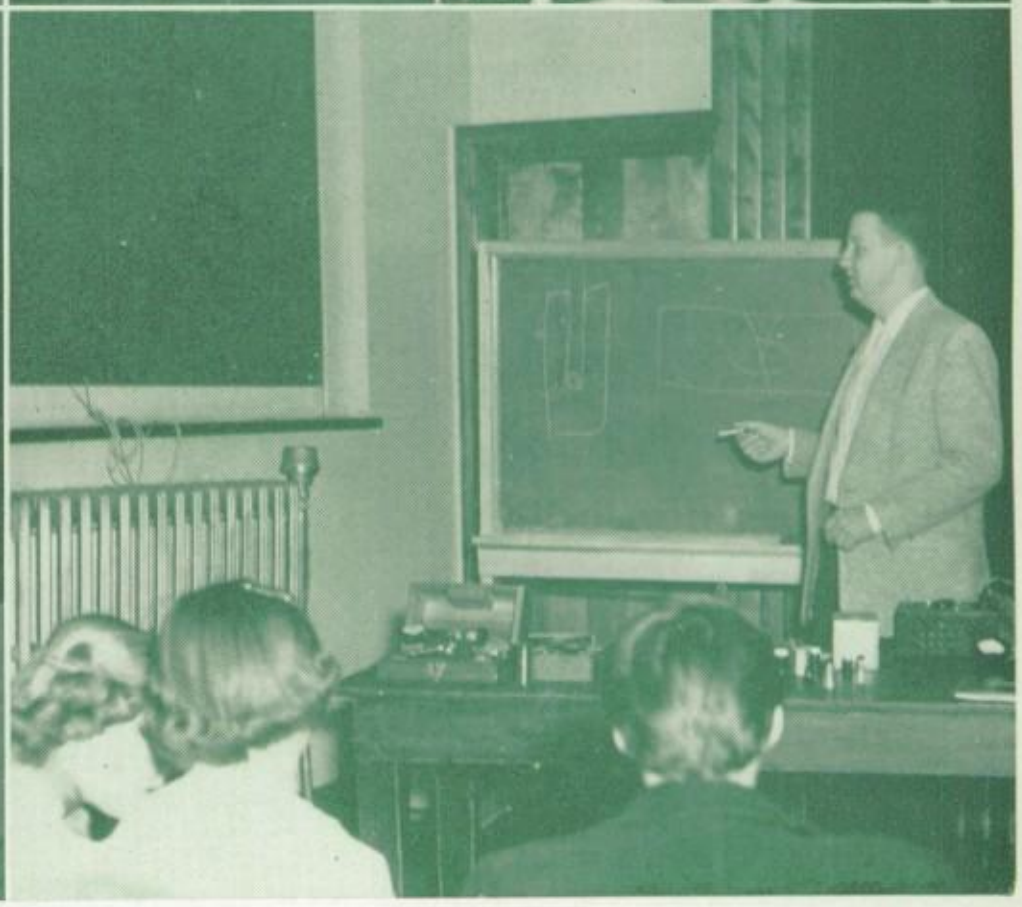
Cyclotron . . .

This year a spectacular activity was added for scientific-minded students in the form of the Cyclotron Club. Of course, their main project is the building of a cyclotron.

Upper right: Dianne Fowler, Lowell Zoller, and Roger Bauer work out some physics problems together.

Lower right: The delicate cyclotron is given attention by Fritz Bartlett, Dave Sutter, and Bill Gilsdorf.





Lettermen's . . .

The muscular letter earners of South make up Lettermen's Club, sponsored by Mr. Ora Davis. These boys are all well known for their excellent showing in sports activities and in sportsmanship. Their annual dance and banquet were again unforgetable this year.

Upper left: A few lettermen use their salesmanship ability to convince a few girls that they should buy tickets to their dance.

Math-Science . . .

Math-Science Club is made up of students who have taken mathematics or science. A speaker addresses the group each month on current scientific topics. Mr. Lloyd Whelan and Mr. Paul Sidell are the co-sponsors of Math-Science.

Upper right: "Now if you watch closely . . ." This speaker is showing Math-Science members the art of blowing glass.

Lower right: Math-Science enjoys a talk given to them by a South Side student, Dale Ferrier. Dale gave an interesting talk on industrial diamond dies.

Junior Red Cross urges enrollment of every South Sider in the National Red Cross. Their main project this year was a scrapbook to be sent to Switzerland. Miss Edith Crowe is the club sponsor.

Rifle Club . . .

Mr. Clarence Murray sponsors Rifle Club for boys who are interested in guns. This club teaches boys how to use rifles properly and safely and gives them a chance to improve their aim.

Upper right: Different shooting positions are tried by David Rose, Fred Shaffer, Don Lutz, and Mervin Shidler.

Lower right: "Ready, aim, fire!" shout the Rifle members in the rifle range in basement of the school.

USA . . .

Helping people of other countries have happy holidays is one of the main projects of USA. They also help in putting on the Easter Assembly. The club is under the leadership of Miss Mabel Fortney and Miss Mary Crowe.

Upper left: A weekly meeting of USA is held in the Greeley Room.

Biology-Conservation . . .

Students interested in biology and conservation make up Biology-Conservation Club, which is sponsored by Mr. Robert Weber. This year the club studied dissections of various animals and took field trips to study nature at first hand.

Upper right: Janet Wise and Suzanne Brooke don't even bat an eyelash as they dissect a snake.

Camera . . .

Camera Club is open to all students and develops in them an interest for many phases of photography. The club is sponsored by Mr. Richard Becker. The Camera Club darkroom is well equipped, containing two enlargers, a dryer, and running water. Pictures as large as 5 x 7 inches may be developed and printed there. During the year, the club holds several black and white and color print contests.

Upper left: Ruth Rainier, Ronnie Mendelblat, Tom Perkins, Barry Zamrin, and Dick Rudnick are printing pictures as a Camera Club activity.

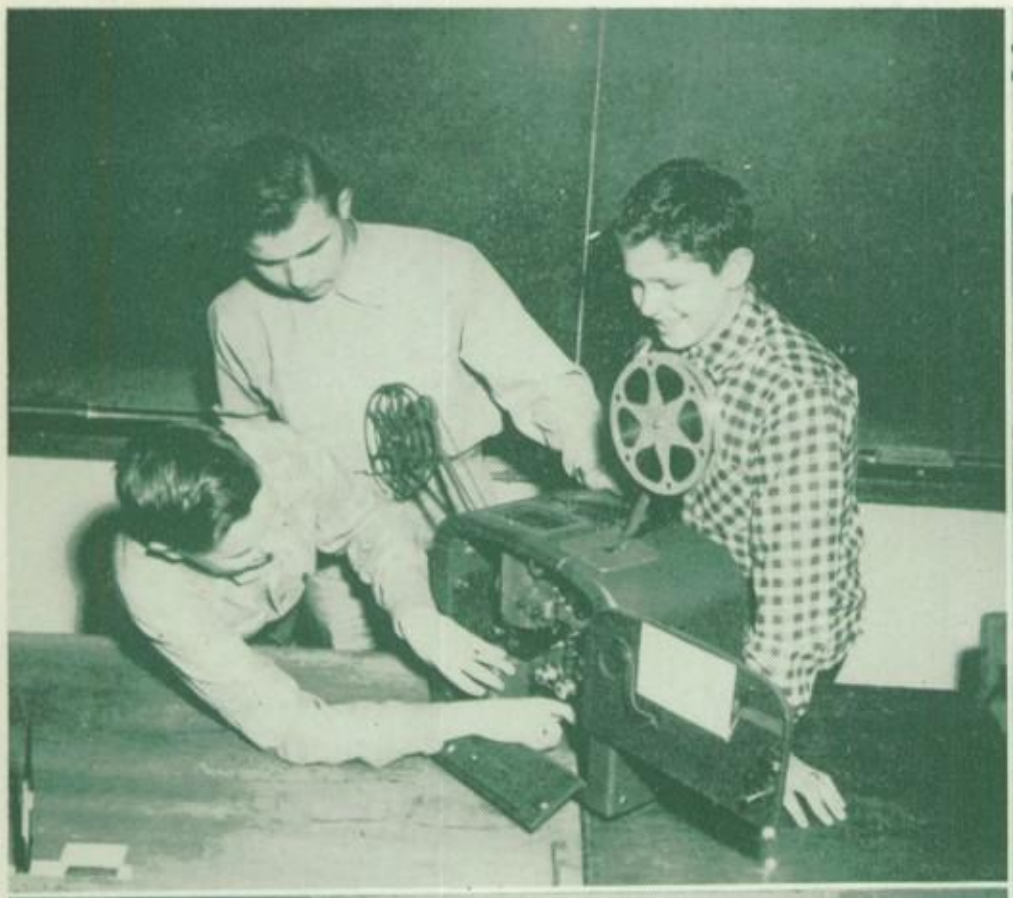
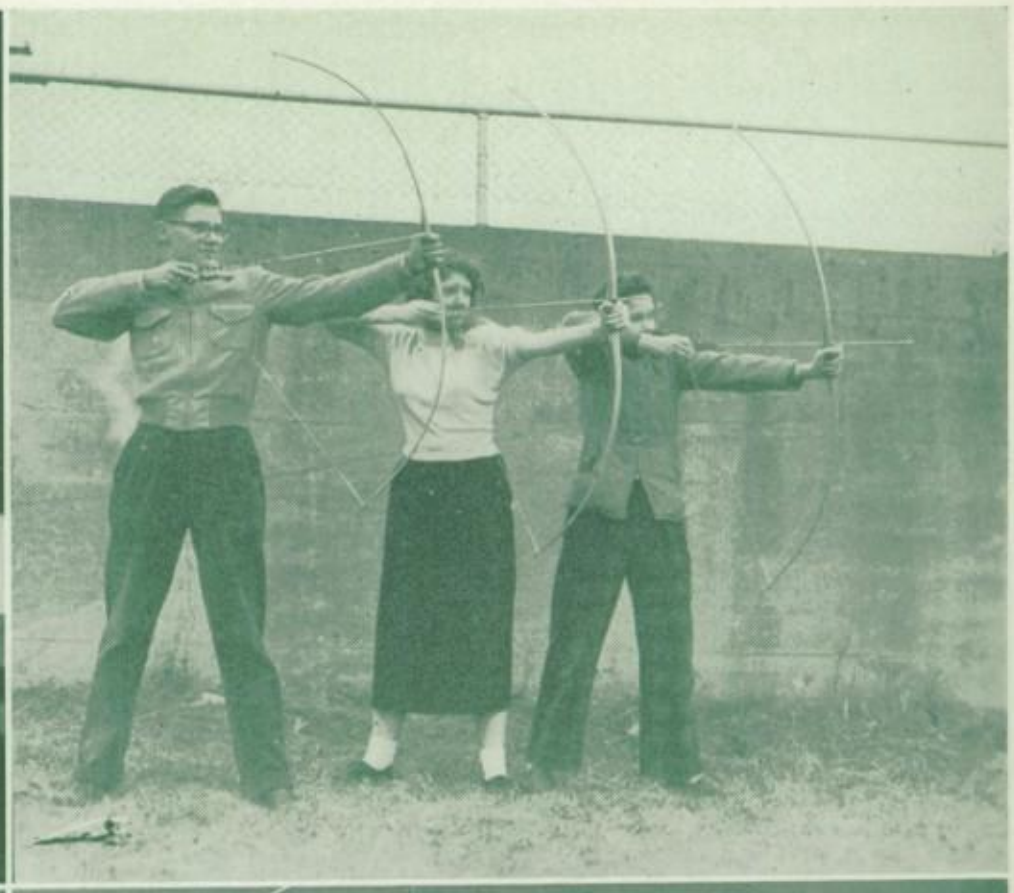
Philo . . .

Philo, the literary club for junior and senior girls, is very active during the school year. This year it has been sponsored by Mrs. Evlyn Spray. Philo not only develops in its members an interest for fine literary works, but it provides them with good entertainment such as that pictured above.

Upper right: Philo witnesses another hilarious play as Karen Keller, Nancy Kierspe, Carol Cutshall, and Charlene Cook all respond to spilled cabbage.

Lower right: "We're hungry!" laugh these Senior girls at Philo's annual picnic at Foster Park. They are Barbara Keirns, Marilyn Ashman, Cynthia Brokaw, Martha Ritter, Joyce Davis, and Jane Beck.





Visual Education . . .

Visual Education Club always has members ready and willing to show films to classes. Everyone in the school benefits from the efforts put forth by this club. Mr. Ernest Walker is the club sponsor.

Upper left: "Let's see how its works now," says Ronald Hathaway to Victor Stelmashenko and Sam Stinson.

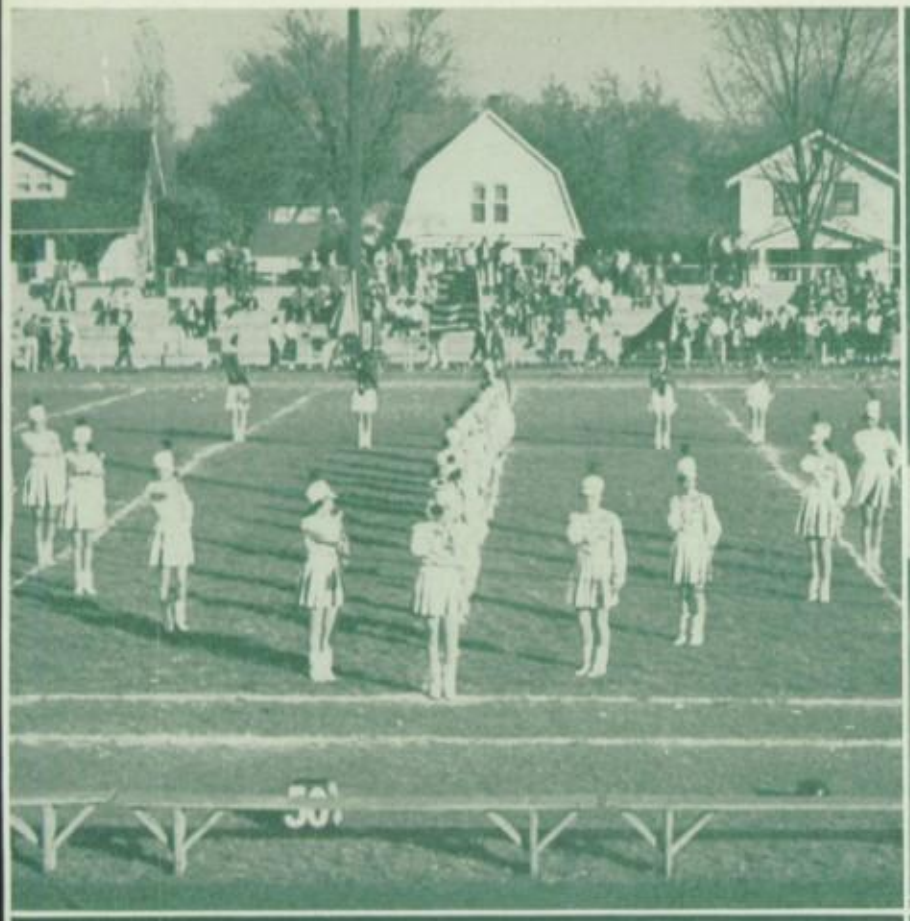
Archery . . .

Mr. William Applegate, Archery Club sponsor, is teaching the Archers to be true archers. In its first year, Archery Club presented a new activity to many interested students.

Upper right: Bob Sliger, Barbara Bowes, and Marvin Hathaway hold their bows in the proper position for shooting.

Lower right: Shooting at planes? Archers are Heather Schreffler, Ralph Shank, and Judy Cook. Awaiting their turn are Gloria Johns and Jeanene Dauscher.



Majorettes . . .

The performances at the halftime displayed by the majorettes give us entertainment and bring about more school spirit. Mr. Robert Drummond seems to never run out of ideas for the colorful and perfect patterns for the majorettes.

Cheerleaders . . .

Good school spirit is a necessity in coming out on top at any sports event. This school spirit is kept alive by the cheerleaders. Mr. Robert Petty is the efficient man behind the cheerleading squad.

Lower right: As the basketball season begins, varsity cheerleaders Sharon Odier, Rilla Ellis, Frances Bagby, Nancy Showalter, and Radka Gouloff are hoping for a good season (which, by the way, they got).

After members of the Times and Totem staffs earn 1500 points, they become members of 1500 Club, honorary journalism organization, and receive a bronze pin. Three pins are offered after the bronze pin. They are silver, 3,000 points; gold, 5,000 points, and gold-jewelled, 10,000 points. Semi-annually this club sponsors a picnic at Foster Park for the Times and Totem staffs.

Upper left: This year's officers for 1500 Club are Barbara Stobaugh, president; Mary Long, vice-president; Marion Hyndman, treasurer; and Rosie Roof, secretary.

Lower left: Ellie Dinius, Jane Brown, and Lavon Portman fold Times on a Wednesday after school to earn points for their 1500 Club pins.

Booster . . .

Taking care of concessions at football and basketball games in order to make money for things needed by the school as a whole is the purpose of Booster Club. Misses Rowena Harvey, Mabel Fortney, and Gertrude Oppelt sponsor this club. This year the club got three new folding tables for use in indoor concessions.

Upper right: Ann Dinius picks up her Coke, which has just been sold to her by Frances Stobaugh and Bill Bryan, while Miss Oppelt looks on.

Lower right: Those who were in charge of candy, ice cream bar, and potato chip sales this year are Marilyn Rodey, Judy Scheppele, Pat VaChon, and Barbara Stobaugh.

Mr. Robert Drummond
Band and Orchestra Director

Orchestra . . .

The orchestra has once again added much to our school functions by its excellent performances under the direction of Mr. Robert Drummond.

The orchestra guides students' musical talents and enables them to prove their ability. They play all kinds of music, the sweet, the fast rhythms, the popular, and all the classics. It seems as if they do them all equally well.

Everyone in the orchestra has a lot of fun along with the work. They put on their part of the music assemblies and the spring and winter concerts. Many of the members are also members of the band. A small group of the orchestra formed the String Ensemble. This group has played for many outside clubs, banquets, and teas.

At Christmas time the orchestra put on a concert with the choir of Plymouth Congregational Church at Plymouth Church. Also they played for the School of the Air broadcast as did the band. One of the longest performances of the orchestra was at a Civic Theater production of "H.M.S. Pinafore." At this performance they provided all of the music which took many long, hard hours of practice and they performed seven times.

Band . . .

Any spectator at the basketball and football games can well remember the band's outstanding performances this year under the direction of Mr. Robert Drummond. The band put on some spectacular marching demonstrations at both games.

One performance in particular we all remember was the parody the band introduced for the North-South game to the tune of "Ten Little Indians." At Christmas, the band formed a bell, a candle, and a candy cane with colored lights symbolizing the season. One of their very impressive and beautiful formations was the American flag which was symbolic of the serious performances that the band is capable of presenting.

To the tune of "Anchors Away" an airplane began slowly moving down the gym floor. This was quite unique and looked very real. There was even a tail light blinking on and off. The majorettes also took part in these demonstrations.

Members of the band practiced many long hours in preparing their patterns. They practiced on Saturday afternoons, at noon, and after school to perfect these routines.

The band also participated in the music assemblies and in the winter and spring concerts. Sally Jo Wilson, a Senior, has played at several school functions on her marimba. Other added features the band has are the drummers and castanet players. Some selections would not be complete without them.

The band members had the task of representing South Side in several of the parades. The parades this year were for Memorial Day, Armistice Day, and the United Fund. They were tired at the end of each journey, but they made a good showing for our school.

Mr. Lester Hostetler
Choir Director

Choir . . .

The Concert Choir has done many, big, outside programs this year. They sang for the Shriners at a variety show open to the public, sang at the Chatterbox for the Kiwanis Club, and Christmas caroled in the Lincoln National Bank. Besides these programs, close to fifty concerts were given for churches, civic and social groups, and at school assemblies.

Last year the choir became the proud possessor of a nine-foot grand piano, and this year the girls received new green taffeta formals.

Soloists with the Concert Choir this year were Marilynn Eicher and Sheila Bradbury, sopranos; Sharon Odier, alto; Dave Gustafson, tenor; John Moore, bass; Nancy Kierspe, comedy specials. Virginia Vosburgh, Georgia Rider, and Sharon Earl have been head secretaries.

This year the music department dance was called "Rainbow Rhapsody," at which Martha Pohlmeyer and David Weigman received the title of Mr. and Miss Music. The dance, as usual, was a sellout.

Vocal . . .

Lower left: Lou Gerig looks a little bit dubious about some of the notes sung by the Girls' Trio as he accompanies them. The girls are Mary Ann Chalfant, alto; Carole McClain, second soprano, and Jean Ensley, soprano.

Instrumental . . .

Snaps

Upper right: Folding Times on Wednesday night.

Middle right: Underclassmen are told to smile for the birdie as the photographer takes their pictures, but this victim seems a little uncertain.

Upper left: Freshmen pick up their yellow program cards on that first fateful day in high school.

Lower left: Laura Briggs, Marilyn Krudop, and Bruce Gerig examine a display at the Progress Exhibit which was set up in the gym.

Upper right: Janet McFarland cheerfully goes about her job of collecting the envelopes on Bank Day.

Lower right: These students are checking over some of the canned foods contributed at Christmas in the drive for needy families.

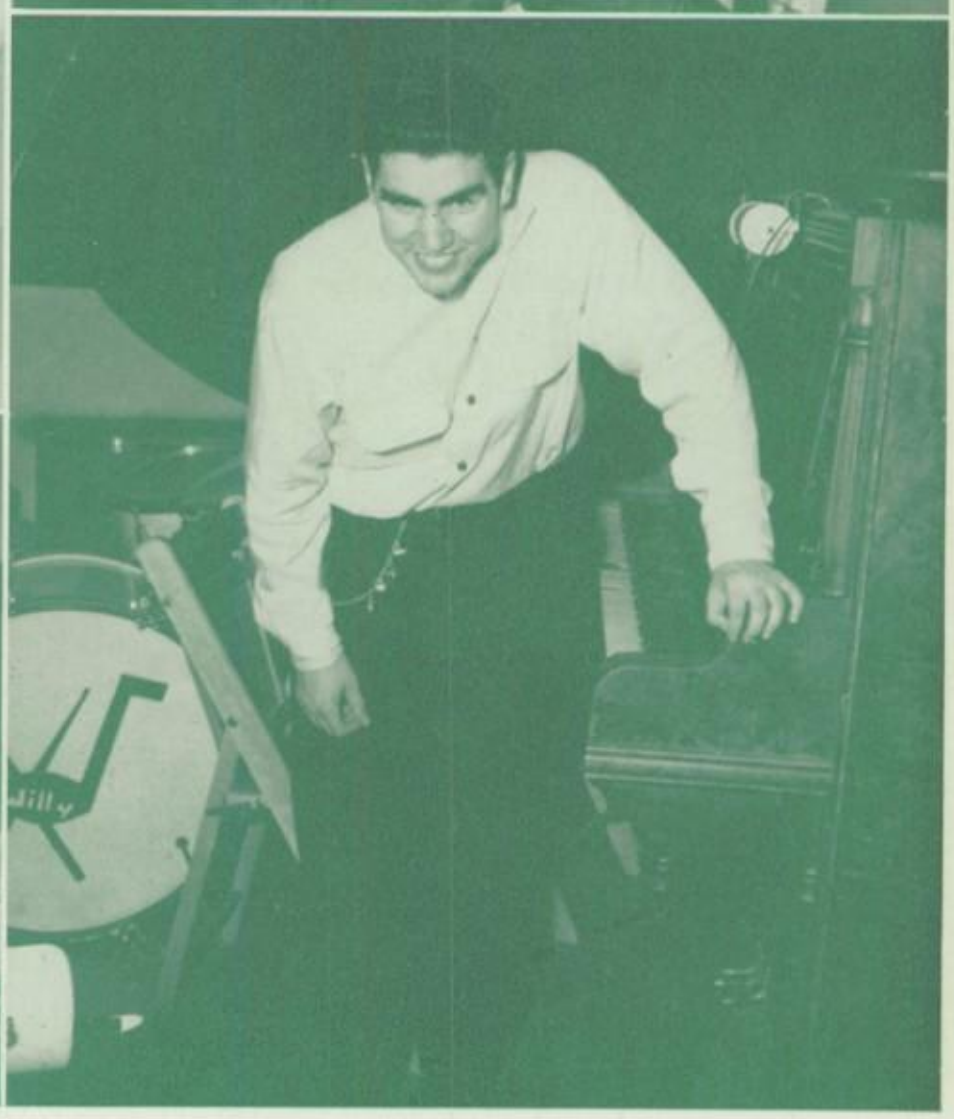
Lower right: "Now those whose names begin with . . .". Locker cleanup provides a lively day for the janitors.



Upper left: These hungry-looking people are standing in line at the PTA supper. Two of them are South Siders Jane and Gretchen Felger (center).

Middle left: "It's O.K., Patsy. He doesn't eat dog food." Diane Fowler helps Patsy and the boiler-room cat, Smokey, get acquainted.

Lower left: "No, Dave. It's not a love letter." Jonnie Jenkins, Barry Hindman, and Dave Grieser clean out their lockers.

Lower right: Bob Blanton, Virginia Shopoff, Nancy Evans, and Dick Brantingham take advantage of the warm sunshine to check over assignments.

Middle left: Engaged in tuck pointing bricks, these men do their part in helping to repair South Side.

Lower left: Mr. and Mrs. Lindley are being served by Miss Lister, Mrs. Spray, Mr. Weaver, Mrs. Miller, and Miss Mellen at the faculty picnic.

Upper right: "Gab-fest in session." Miss Perkins, Miss Edith Crowe, Mrs. Fleck, and Miss Maloney talk things over at noon in the cafeteria.

Middle right: Bill Berg and Barry Moser put the finishing touches on a project in wood class.

Lower right: Gail Baldwiwn, Linda Kithcart, Sandra Disher, and Norbert Workinger take part in one of the music assemblies.

Middle right: It looks as if somebody made a funny at the speakers' table at the Junior Banquet.

Lower left: Whatcha doin', Suzie? Praying for rain? These Juniors are building a "Stairway to the Stars" for the 1953 Prom.

Upper right: Good gravy, Fred. It can't be that bad! Ann McMillen, Dan Whitmer, Shirley Karns, and Sandy Luttman rest after a strenuous 15 minutes of decorating for the Junior Prom.

Middle right: Looks like a series of mug shots on Dragnet. This "lineup" is helping fix the canopy for the Junior Prom.

Lower right: And a wonderful time was had by all who attended the Junior Prom, "Stairway to the Stars."

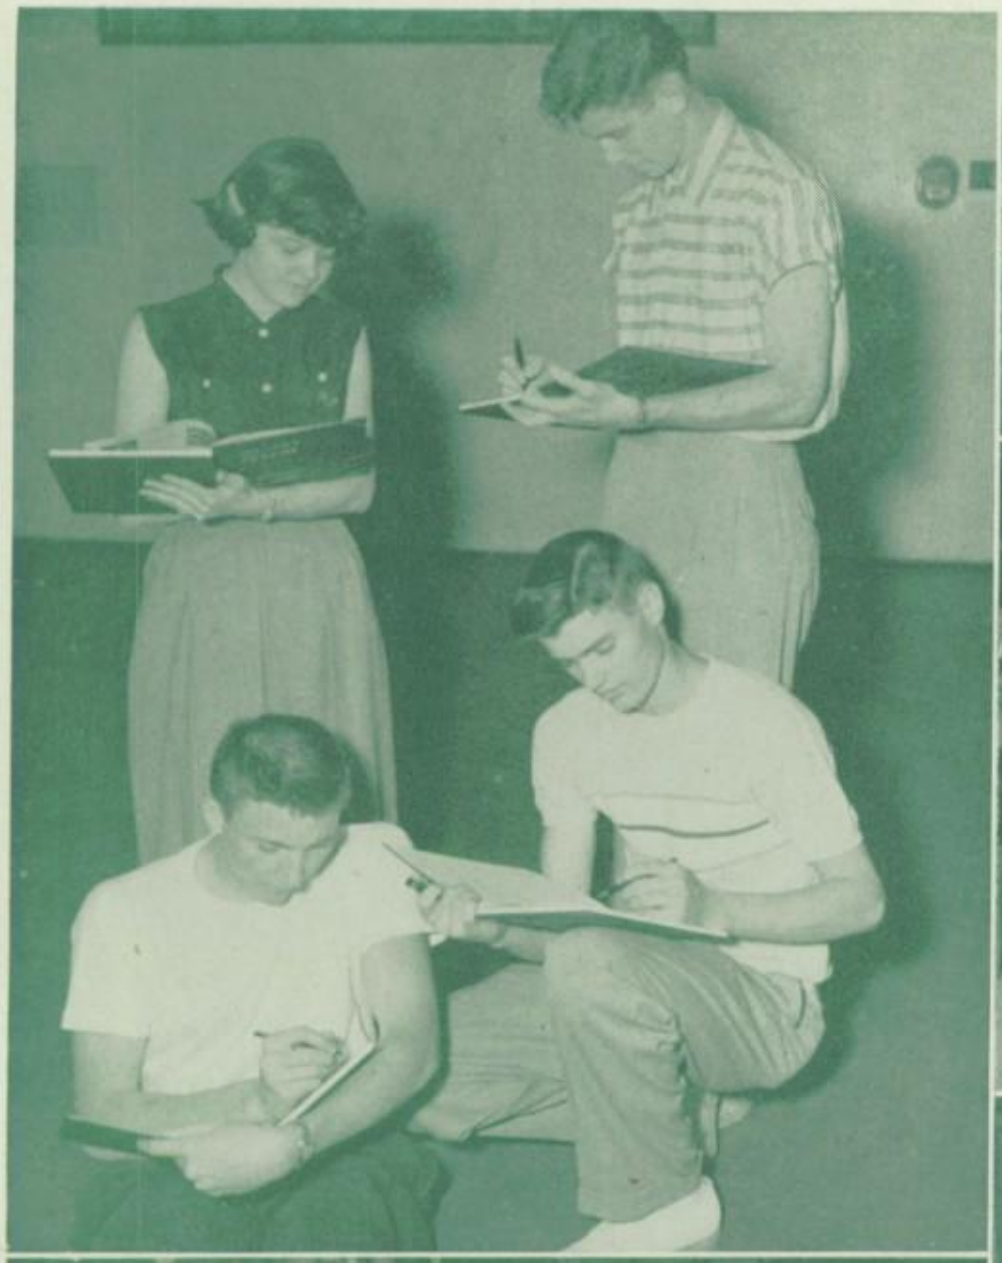
Lower right: The Queen, her court, Seniors, and teachers parade around the school in observance of Ivy Day.



Upper left: Something to which everyone looks forward, Totem-signing time. Here Martha Ritter, Phil Kenner (standing), Kenny Krick, and Roy Kern make their mark on history.

Middle left: Cafeteria helpers are Mrs. Koehler, Mrs. Hunter, Mrs. Doerfel, Mrs. Chamness, and Mrs. Trautman.

Lower left: Elmer Harkenrider, Don Lacerte, and Earl Goff are sawing slugs in the press room.

Upper right: Miss Hodgson and Miss Kiefer express their thanks as they open their going-away presents.

Middle right: Mr. Cramer and Mr. Billiard are rearranging the tables while preparing for the Boiler Room Luncheon.

Middle right: Much scaffolding was made to repair this part of the roof.

Lower right: And who can forget the delightful aroma of hot tar lingering in the halls?

To Kenny - Saved -

a big tall brute who may seem a little on the goofy side at times but when it really comes right down to it is a great guy with a grand personality. Kenny,

Best of luck in everything you do.

Do me one favor, and that is please remember me steady is Neil and not Gene

"Betty Weigmann" -55"

The pressure is on again, because I don't know what to write. We have one more year here at South and I hope to heck that I can think of something to write next year. We have had a lot of fun this year and I finally got my drivers license (misspelled word). I didn't need it too much after all after about eight days though. We weren't in any classes except gym this semester so I can't kid you about anything that you have done in the classrooms. Those guys in Algebra class really love you boy, especially Don Surface! I thought that I would just take up one-fourth of this page but I may run over that limit yet. I still don't know what to write Carolyn, I would have liked to seen you playing some baseball this summer but it don't look like you will after all. Sure hope I do. Well my letter is done and I haven't said a thing. Sure nice knowing you and see you in about 27 seconds.

Your great pal,

Dear Kenny,
As you know, I've already wrote in your Totem once. Hope the gang can get together a lot more this summer. You sure do have us around, don't you. Well, just remember as I told you before, I sure appreciate all you've done for me. Best of luck always.
